Dear Jonathan

This letter confirms that Energy & Utility Skills (the Standard Setting Body for Gas Safe registration) supports the introduction and development of the following qualification by BPEC Awarding Organisation:

Level 3 Diploma in Domestic Gas Engineering

This qualification is suitable to be offered in the age ranges 16 – 18, 18+ and 19+. It has been designed specifically for new entrants completing the Gas Engineering apprenticeship.

Upon successful completion of the qualification the candidates will have developed the knowledge and skills required to reach the gateway stage of their apprenticeships.

Yours sincerely

Ian Moss
